

Compost/Worm Bin/ EM Bokashi Subsidy

Composting kitchen and garden waste is a great way to halve the rubbish you send to the tip and save you money. You don't have to pay for as many rubbish bags and your garden will thank you for the goodies by not needing as much water and delivering a bumper crop of vegetable or flowers.

Nelson City Council wants to encourage residents to use compost bins, worm bins or EM Bokashi instead of throwing food scraps in the rubbish. The Council provides a $15 subsidy when Nelson residents purchase these from one of the participating retailers. For more information on how to compost see our pamphlet, Composting - A 'How To' Guide.

Subsidy Coupon

Nelson City Council residents are entitled to one $15 subsidy (inclusive of GST) per household on compost bins, worm bins or EM Bokashi units at the time of purchase. The subsidy is not available for worm purchases. This coupon may be redeemed from any participating retailers listed overleaf. Retailers are to provide the discount at the time of purchase. The discount is not available directly from Nelson City Council.
